Introduction

Personality is a psychological construct, which refers to a dynamic set of psychic characteristics of an individual. These characteristics have a lot to do with the emergence of eating disorders, so it is very important for nutrition professionals to know which of these traits define which patients are most likely to suffer from this type of pathology, and the most effective ways to work with them. This knowledge will make the student into a much more competent nutritionist with the skills to carry out their work in diverse environments with greater guarantees of success.

Thanks to this complete Postgraduate Certificate, you will start to intervene in patients with eating disorders in a much better way, since you will know the specific characteristics of their personality”

Individual traits play an important role in the development of eating disorders. ¿Are some people more prone to suffer from them than others? ¿Does gender have any part to play? ¿And cultural aspects?

In fact, it is estimated that, per 100,000 inhabitants, 30 to 40 women between 15 and 25 years of age will typically suffer from an eating disorder. There really is a growing cultural shift in the concern with food and thinness. Studies carried out in the USA in 1978 showed that 45% of housewives went on a diet every year; that 56% of women between 25-54 years of age went on a diet; that 76% of women who went on a diet did so more for aesthetic reasons than for health reasons.

Until 1950 there were about 200 recorded cases of AN. Today, there are hundreds of thousands. Social phenomena may explain the possible risk of the incidence of AN. The increasing liberation of women has sometimes paradoxically led some of them to reject feminism and becoming adults, longing to be children in the face of the difficult struggle of AN against the needs of dependency.

In the USA, billions of dollars are spent annually on dieting and 1 in 10 girls suffer from an eating disorder. One in every 250 teenage girls has AN. At least 3.5 million people, predominantly women, are suffering from bulimia.

Taking into consideration all the above data, this Postgraduate Certificate will focus on providing the professional with the skills and knowledge to intervene and work with patients with eating disorders, establishing the action plan according to the characteristics of their personality.

In addition, the strategies, tools and skills that the nutritionist will develop by completing this Postgraduate Certificate are compatible with any model that they are applying in their daily practice, so they will be able to incorporate them to many more situations.

This Postgraduate Certificate in Personality and Eating Disorders contains the most complete and up to date scientific program on the market. The most important features of the program include:

- The development of more than 50 case studies presented by experts in Personality and Eating Disorders
- The graphic, schematic and practical contents of the course are designed to provide all the essential information required for professional practice
- Exercises where the self assessment process can be carried out to improve learning
- An algorithm-based interactive learning system, designed for decision making for patients with nutritional challenges
- Theoretical lessons, questions to the expert, debate forums on controversial topics, and individual reflection assignments
- Content that is accessible from any fixed or portable device with an Internet connection

Start today a high level training packed with multimedia material that will help you grow and position yourself within the industry"

The best teaching team and the best syllabus will help you in the process of becoming a prestigious nutritionist”

The teaching staff includes nutrition professionals who bring their experience to this training program, as well as renowned specialists from leading societies and prestigious universities.

The multimedia content, developed with the latest educational technology, will provide the professional with situated and contextual learning, i.e., a simulated environment that will provide immersive training programmed to train in real situations.

This program is designed around Problem Based Learning, whereby the professional must try to solve the different professional practice situations that arise throughout the program. To do so, the professional will be assisted by an innovative interactive video system created by renowned and experienced experts in Personality and Eating Disorders.

You are just one click away from immersive training that will take your professional skills to another level.

By training here you will achieve notable improvements in your professional practice.

“

Increase your professional opportunities by studying at TECH and you will see how your career starts to take off”

05 Methodology

This academic program offers students a different way of learning. Our methodology uses a cyclical learning approach: Relearning.

This teaching system is used, for example, in the most prestigious medical schools in the world, and major publications such as the New England Journal of Medicine have considered it to be one of the most effective.

Discover Relearning, a system that abandons conventional linear learning, to take you through cyclical teaching systems: a way of learning that has proven to be extremely effective, especially in subjects that require memorization"

At TECH we use the Case Method

In a given situation, what should a professional do? Throughout the program, students will face multiple simulated clinical cases, based on real patients, in which they will have to do research, establish hypotheses, and ultimately resolve the situation. There is an abundance of scientific evidence on the effectiveness of the method. Specialists learn better, faster, and more sustainably over time.

With TECH, nutritionists can experience a way of learning that is shaking the foundations of traditional universities around the world.

According to Dr. Gérvas, the clinical case is the annotated presentation of a patient, or group of patients, which becomes a "case", an example or model that illustrates some peculiar clinical component, either because of its teaching power or because of its uniqueness or rarity. It is essential that the case is based on current professional life, trying to recreate the real conditions of professional nutritional practice.

Did you know that this method was developed in 1912, at Harvard, for law students? The case method consisted of presenting students with real-life, complex situations for them to make decisions and justify their decisions on how to solve them. In 1924, Harvard adopted it as a standard teaching method”

The effectiveness of the method is justified by four fundamental achievements:

1. Nutritionists who follow this method not only achieve the assimilation of concepts, but also a development of their mental capacity through exercises to evaluate real situations and the application of knowledge.
2. Learning is solidly translated into practical skills that allow the nutritionist to better integrate knowledge into clinical practice.
3. Ideas and concepts are understood more efficiently, given that the example situations are based on real-life.
4. Students like to feel that the effort they put into their studies is worthwhile. This then translates into a greater interest in learning and more time dedicated to working on the course.

Relearning Methodology

At TECH we enhance the case method with the best 100% online teaching methodology available: Relearning.

This university is the first in the world to combine the study of clinical cases with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, combining a minimum of 8 different elements in each lesson, a real revolution with respect to the mere study and analysis of cases.

The nutritionist will learn through real cases and by solving complex situations in simulated learning environments. These simulations are developed using state-of-the-art software to facilitate immersive learning.

At the forefront of world teaching, the Relearning method has managed to improve the overall satisfaction levels of professionals who complete their studies, with respect to the quality indicators of the best online university (Columbia University).

With this methodology, more than 45,000 nutritionists have been trained with unprecedented success in all clinical specialties regardless of the surgical load. All this in a highly demanding environment, where the students have a strong socio-economic profile and an average age of 43.5 years.

Relearning will allow you to learn with less effort and better performance, involving you more in your training, developing a critical mindset, defending arguments, and contrasting opinions: a direct equation for success.

In our program, learning is not a linear process, but rather a spiral (learn, unlearn, forget, and re-learn). Therefore, we combine each of these elements concentrically.

The overall score obtained by TECH's learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

This program offers the best educational material, prepared with professionals in mind:

Study Material

All teaching material is produced by the specialists who teach the course, specifically for the course, so that the teaching content is highly specific and precise.

These contents are then applied to the audiovisual format, to create the TECH online working method. All this, with the latest techniques that offer high quality pieces in each and every one of the materials that are made available to the student.

Nutrition Techniques and Procedures on Video

TECH brings students closer to the latest techniques, the latest educational advances and to the forefront of current nutritional counselling techniques and procedures. All of this in direct contact with students and explained in detail so as to aid their assimilation and understanding. And best of all, you can watch the videos as many times as you like.

Interactive Summaries

The TECH team presents the contents attractively and dynamically in multimedia lessons that include audio, videos, images, diagrams, and concept maps in order to reinforce knowledge.

This exclusive educational system for presenting multimedia content was awarded by Microsoft as a "European Success Story".

Additional Reading

Recent articles, consensus documents and international guidelines, among others. In TECH's virtual library, students will have access to everything they need to complete their course.

Expert-Led Case Studies and Case Analysis

Effective learning ought to be contextual. Therefore, TECH presents real cases in which the expert will guide students, focusing on and solving the different situations: a clear and direct way to achieve the highest degree of understanding.

Testing & Retesting

We periodically evaluate and re-evaluate students' knowledge throughout the program, through assessment and self-assessment activities and exercises, so that they can see how they are achieving their goals.

Classes

There is scientific evidence suggesting that observing third-party experts can be useful.

Learning from an Expert strengthens knowledge and memory, and generates confidence in future difficult decisions.

Quick Action Guides

TECH offers the most relevant contents of the course in the form of worksheets or quick action guides. A synthetic, practical, and effective way to help students progress in their learning.
