Introduction

Researchers on this subject have come up with the hypothesis that the negative impact that certain external factors may have on the development of emotional and behavioral problems in children and adolescents, is directly shaped by family structure and dynamics. In many cases, stress factors can modify the family environment to such an extent that they become dysfunctional.

One of the most commonly studied factors of familial pathology has been their economic situation. Different research has brought to light that economic stress has a negative influence on psychological well-being and the quality of family relationships”

Family plays a decisive role in the socialization process of an individual and in the transmission of values, knowledge and beliefs. The modern family is still a living and essential entity which is in the center of our individual, professional and social concerns. It is an extremely important element in the development and maturation of each person. In this sense, the protective effect of family relationships has traditionally been highlighted in the face of certain adverse situations. These are as diverse as work problems, economic difficulties or the loss of loved ones. But the family can also be a source of stress, and it has been pointed out in this regard that family stress has a particularly powerful capacity as a pathogenic element. This is because stress factors originating in the family tend to be, unlike others, frequent and recurrent.

Role conflict, personal characteristics of some of its members, inadequate communication patterns or the implications of parental pathologies on children are some of the most discussed aspects.

Gradually, it has begun to be recognized that family dynamics not only protects its members against certain adversities or certain personal disorders, but also that certain aspects of family functioning can help to improve inappropriate behaviors (especially in children and adolescents). This not only applies in the family environment, but also in other areas and other disorders, as is the case of emotional or psychosomatic disorders.

This Postgraduate Certificate is unique in that it addresses those aspects that have received the most attention in the research carried out on the subject. To this end, we develop some questions regarding the relationship between external stress factors, family interaction and psychological problems in children and adolescents.

In addition, there has been an increase in the number of studies which show the influence of economic stress on children and adolescents is shaped by the type of relationship that exists between parents and children.

International Guest Director

Dr. David H. Rosmarin is a renowned clinical psychologist and founder of the Center for Anxiety, where he has led a team of more than 80 physicians who treat more than 1,000 patients annually. His specialization encompasses intensive and outpatient treatment of anxiety disorder, as well as depression in all ages. In addition, his approach combines scientific evidence with spirituality, seeking to transform the pathology into a strength that contributes to personal growth.

He has also held prominent positions as Associate Director of Psychology in the Department of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School and as Director of the Spirituality and Mental Health Program at McLean Hospital. These positions have allowed him to develop advanced skills in clinical treatment and mental health integration. Likewise, his ability to lead teams and train new professionals has been fundamental to the advancement of psychological practice.

Internationally, he has been recognized for his innovative contributions in the treatment of Anxiety and Depression. In this sense, he has received multiple awards for his clinical and academic work, standing out as a pioneer in mental health. Also, his approach, which has promoted the acceptance of human emotions as a way to overcome the stigmas associated with these disorders, has earned him invitations to prestigious conferences and events around the world.

In addition to his clinical practice, he has authored numerous peer-reviewed articles and publications. His research has focused on the relationship between spirituality and mental health, exploring how these elements can be integrated into the treatment of emotional disorders. Additionally, his commitment to professional development has been reflected in the APPIC-approved Anxiety Center Psychology program.

Methodology

This training provides you with a different way of learning. Our methodology uses a cyclical learning approach: Re-learning.

This teaching system is used in the most prestigious medical schools in the world, and major publications such as the New England Journal of Medicine have considered it to be one of the most effective.

Discover Re-learning, a system that abandons conventional linear learning, to take you through cyclical teaching systems: a way of learning that has proven to be extremely effective, especially in subjects that require memorization"

At TECH we use the Case Method

In a given clinical situation, what would you do? Throughout the program you will be presented with multiple simulated clinical cases based on real patients, where you will have to investigate, establish hypotheses and, finally, resolve the situation. There is abundant scientific evidence on the effectiveness of the method. Psychologists learn better, faster, and more sustainably over time.

With TECH, psychologists can experience a way of learning that is shaking the foundations of traditional universities around the world.

According to Dr. Gervas, the clinical case is the annotated presentation of a patient, or group of patients, which becomes a "case", an example or model that illustrates some peculiar clinical component, either because of its teaching power or because of its uniqueness or rarity. It is essential that the case is based on current professional life, trying to recreate the real conditions in the psychologist's professional practice.

Did you know that this method was developed in 1912 at Harvard for law students? The case method consisted of presenting students with real-life, complex situations for them to make decisions and justify their decisions on how to solve them. In 1924, Harvard adopted it as a standard teaching method”

The effectiveness of the method is justified by four fundamental achievements:

1. Psychologists who follow this method not only grasp concepts, but also develop their mental capacity by means of exercises to evaluate real situations and apply their knowledge.
2. The learning is solidly focused on practical skills that allow the psychologist to better integrate the knowledge into clinical practice.
3. Ideas and concepts are understood more efficiently, given that the example situations are based on real-life.
4. Students like to feel that the effort they put into their studies is worthwhile. This then translates into a greater interest in learning and more time dedicated to working on the course.

Re-Learning Methodology

At TECH we enhance the Harvard case method with the best 100% online teaching methodology available: Re-learning.

Our University is the first in the world to combine the study of clinical cases with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, combining a minimum of 8 different elements in each lesson, which represent a real revolution with respect to simply studying and analyzing cases.

The psychologist will learn through real cases and by solving complex situations in simulated learning environments. These simulations are developed using state-of-the-art software to facilitate immersive learning.

At the forefront of world teaching, the Re-learning method has managed to improve the overall satisfaction levels of professionals who complete their studies, with respect to the quality indicators of the best Spanish-speaking online university (Columbia University).

With this methodology we have trained more than 150,000 psychologists with unprecedented success, in all clinical specialties. All this in a highly demanding environment, where the students have a strong socio-economic profile and an average age of 43.5 years.

Re-learning will allow you to learn with less effort and better performance, involving you more in your training, developing a critical mindset, defending arguments, and contrasting opinions: a direct equation to success.

In our program, learning is not a linear process, but rather a spiral (we learn, unlearn, forget, and re-learn). Therefore, we combine each of these elements concentrically.

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

In this program you will have access to the best educational material, prepared with you in mind:

Study Material

All teaching material is produced by the specialists who teach the course, specifically for the course, so that the teaching content is really specific and precise.

This content is then adapted in an audiovisual format that will create our way of working online, with the latest techniques that allow us to offer you high quality in all of the material that we provide you with.
