Welcome

German is an essential language in Europe. It is spoken by millions of inhabitants in several countries such as Switzerland and Austria, so it is not limited to Germany. It is also the language of the biggest power in the European Union, a country with enormous economic and industrial strength. For these reasons, it is necessary to be fluent in this language, as it opens the door to numerous personal and professional opportunities. Therefore, this program is developed through online group conversation classes guided by native teachers, who will ensure that the student quickly assimilates everything they learn.

Hallo!

Presentation video

You will develop fluency in German thanks to TECH's learning methodology and its native teachers specialized in language teaching"

Introduction

There is no language in Europe more practical than German. It is a language of great diplomatic weight, since it is spoken in more than 5 countries on the continent. It also makes it possible to work in large German companies such as Audi, Volkswagen, Adidas, BMW or Hugo Boss; and its influence extends throughout institutions such as the European Union. In this way, mastering the oral Level B2 of this language provides a great progress to the student who has a great opportunity with this university program, since it will not only help them to improve, but will also prepare them to obtain the German certificate of the European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR), the most important reference system for languages at an international level.

This university program will prepare you to pass the CEFR German Level B2 oral test through numerous practical activities.

The best way to improve your language performance is to practice it: that's why these conversation classes are what you need to make progress in German.

02
Is it Important to Obtain a Language Certificate?

Language certification is essential in today's world. It is not enough to be proficient in a second language, but it is also necessary to accredit that proficiency so that institutions and companies of all kinds can know the candidate's real level of command of a language. Consequently, this program is essential for all students who wish to be able to accredit their oral performance in German according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

German Level B2 will give you access to scholarships, job opportunities, academic placements and study exchange programs, among many other options"

TECH Global University

The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is the only recognized and accredited system for assessing a student's level of proficiency. Although there are other certification systems, these come from private institutions and are, therefore, not valid. The CEFR establishes a single criterion to determine the difficulty of the courses and awards diplomas that are recognized throughout the European Union.

At TECH we offer you the only intensive program designed to prepare you to obtain your official certificate based 100% on the CEFR, the only system recognized and accepted throughout Europe.
Become fluent in all types of German conversations and gain access to important academic and professional opportunities. Enroll now.

The best native German teachers will walk you through the learning process, making sure you learn quickly and efficiently.

With this program you will have all the content and skills you need to pass the B2"

03
What Is Level B2?

Level B2 is part of the Independent User Level, which is divided into two sublevels: First and Second Independent User Level (B1 and B2).

The B2 Level has two main features: the first is the ability to maintain interaction and make oneself understood in a variety of situations, for example: learners generally understand the main ideas of extended discussions around them, provided the speech is clearly articulated at a standard language level; offer and ask for opinions in an informal discussion with friends; clearly express the main idea they want to get across; flexibly use broad, simple language to express much of what they want; are able to carry on a conversation or discussion, but can sometimes be difficult to understand when trying to say exactly what they mean; express themselves understandably, although they pause for some grammatical and lexical planning, and some mistake-correcting is evident, especially in long periods language flow.

Improve your German while preparing for the CEFR B2 certification"

What are the B2 Level Skills?

01 It is the ability to understand the main ideas in complex texts which deal with both concrete and abstract topics, even if they are of a technical nature, as long as they are within their field of expertise

02 You can interact with native speakers with a sufficient degree of fluency and naturalness, so that communication is effortless for the interlocutors

Improve your skills in this language and certify your level quickly and easily thanks to everything you will learn in this excellent program offered by TECH"

03 You can produce clear and detailed texts on a range of diverse topics, as well as defend your point of view on general topics, indicating the pros and cons or different options

B2 level Self-Assessment Chart

What will I be able to do after completing the course?

Comprehension	Speaking
Listening	Oral Interaction
• Understand long speeches and lectures, and even follow complex arguments as long as the topic is relatively familiar • Understand nearly all the news bulletins on the television and on current affairs programs • Understand most films in which the language is spoken at a standard language level	• Participate in a conversation with fluency and spontaneity, enabling normal communication with native speakers • Take an active role in debates based on daily situations, explaining and defending points of view
	Oral Expression
	• Present clear and detailed descriptions of a wide range of topics related to my speciality • Explain my point of view on a topic, mentioning the advantages and disadvantages of different options

More than 100 different activities to improve your fluency, expression, comprehension and pronunciation.

"Prepare yourself in a comfortable way with TECH to pass the CEFR B2 oral test thanks to this program"

Qualitative aspects of spoken language usage for Level B2
(According to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages)

What is expected to be achieved with this level?

Scope

- Offer clear descriptions
- Express points of view on general topics without obvious pauses to search for a word, using complex sentences to achieve it

Correction

- Demonstrate relatively high grammatical accuracy
- Doesn't make mistakes that lead to misunderstanding
- Correct almost all mistakes

Fluency

- Produce fragments of a speech with a fairly uniform rhythm, although there could be pauses while thinking of certain structures or expressions
- Make few long pauses during the speech

Interaction

- Start a conversation, take your turn to speak at the appropriate moment and finish a conversation when necessary, although it may not always be done with elegance
- Participate in debates on day to day topics, demonstrating understanding, inviting others to participate, etc.

Coherence

- Use a limited number of cohesion mechanisms to turn sentences into a clear and coherent speech, although there may be some "nervousness" if the speech is long

Download and practice vocabulary: more than 50 pages of lexical cards and glossaries.

Our Methodology

The Online Conversation Classes to prepare for a B2 Level in German is an intensive preparation course based 100% on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). For this purpose, we TECH use a method of oral proficiency practice in which the student works intensively and repeatedly on all the contents required by the Framework, providing them with extensive preparation to pass the test.

You will not find a program like this one, which will allow you to work at your own pace, with native teachers, in small groups based on specific practice of the CEFR competencies in each session"

The TECH Method

Conventional methods of teaching a second language, such as demonstrative classes or mechanical exercises, slow down learning and seriously affect student motivation, as confirmed by statistical data reflecting the failure of the traditional system and methodology.

TECH's B2 German Online Conversation Classes offers a method based on interaction and synchronous and direct communication between teacher and student to thoroughly prepare for the oral level certification test. TECH's objective is to strengthen the student's skills in a changing, real and multicultural context and to guarantee their success in passing the test.

The student will learn through activities, stories and real contexts, the resolution of everyday and basic communication situations in simulated learning environments and will face real mock exams to prepare intensively for the level certification test.

...All of this is enhanced with the best 100% online teaching methodology: Relearning...

Our school is the first in the world to combine storytelling with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, which combines different elements that represent an evolution with respect to the simple study and performance of exercises.

Our B2 CEFR oral communication skills preparation program is the only one on the market licensed to use the Relearning methodology, which enhances learning by optimizing the effort/result ratio.

This methodology, at the forefront of world teaching, is called Relearning. Our language school is the first licensed to employ this successful method, having managed in 2015 to improve the overall satisfaction levels (teaching quality, quality of materials, course structure, objectives...) of the students who complete the courses with respect to the indicators of the best language courses on the market.

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

Our system enables students to organize their time and learning pace, adapting it to their schedule, and to access the contents from any device with an Internet connection (computer, tablet, smartphone or the like)"

According to the latest scientific evidence in the field of neuroscience, not only do we know how to organize information, ideas, images, memories, but we know that the place and context where we have learned something is fundamental for us to be able to remember it and store it in the hippocampus and retain it in our long-term memory. In this way, and in what is called "Neurocognitive context- dependent learning", the different elements of our intensive German B2 level preparation course are connected to the context in which the participant will take the certification exam in order to guarantee success on the day of the test.

Course Objectives

The main goal of this university program is to offer the student the opportunity to improve their German language skills to a B2 level. With this level you will be able to communicate quite fluently in a variety of situations in different registers. In addition, at the same time that the student progresses with the language, they will be preparing to obtain a B2 certificate of the CEFR, since this university program has been specifically designed to be able to pass the oral test of this important language recognition system.

Practice the speaking skills and abilities required by the B2 CEFR: more than 100 different practice exercises"

General Objectives

01 Understand, interact and express yourself in a extensive range of situations, both orally and written, with good control of linguistic resources and with a degree of precision and ease that allows for natural communication with native speakers

02 Acquire deeper knowledge of sociocultural aspects related to this situations and alter your register, attitudes and gestures appropriately in each situation

03 Internalize new linguistic resources through functional and formal practice and to reinforce the use of those already known; to reflect on mistakes in order to be able to correct yourself

04 Become aware of the communication and learning strategies that help you the most, so that you can use them intentionally

05 Develop autonomy in the planning, carrying out, evaluation and improvement of your own learning

Specific Objectives

Listening

- Understand the main ideas of a linguistically complex speech, dealing with both concrete and abstract topics delivered at a standard language level, including technical discussions within their field of expertise

- Understand long speeches and complex lines of reasoning as long as the subject matter is reasonably familiar and the development of the speech is facilitated by explicit markers

- Understand any type of speech, both face-to-face conversations and broadcasted speeches on common or unusual topics of personal, social, academic or professional life. Only excessive background noise, inadequate structuring of speech or idiomatic use of language affect their ability to understand

- Pick up with some effort much of what is being said around them, but may find it difficult to participate effectively in a discussion with several native speakers if they do not modify their speech in some way

- Follow lively conversations between native speakers

- Understand the main ideas of linguistically complex lectures, talks and reports, and other forms of academic and professional presentation

- Understand statements and messages on concrete and abstract topics, in standard language and at a normal pace

- Understand most radio documentaries and other recorded or rebroadcast material spoken in standard language, and identify the speaker's mood and tone

- Understand recordings in standard language that may be encountered in social, professional or academic life and identify the speaker's points of view and attitudes, as well as the content of the information

Oral Expression

- Participate in conversations with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that enables regular interaction with native speakers without strain for either party. Emphasize the personal importance of certain facts and experiences; express and defend points of view with clarity, providing adequate explanations and arguments

- Speak fluently, accurately and effectively on a wide range of general, academic, professional or leisure topics, clearly marking the relationship between ideas. Communicates spontaneously and has good grammatical control without showing many signs of having to restrict what he/she says and adopting a level of formality appropriate to the circumstances

- Understand in detail what is said in standard language, even in an environment with background noise

- Approach extensive conversations on most general topics, even in a noisy environment, in a clearly participatory manner

- Have conversations with native speakers without unintentionally amusing or annoying them, and without demanding different behavior from them than they would have with a native speaker

- Convey a certain emotion and highlight the personal importance of facts and experiences

- Follow the rhythm of lively discussions between native speakers. Express ideas and opinions with accuracy, present complex lines of argument convincingly and respond to them

- Take an active part in informal discussions that occur in everyday situations by making comments, clearly expressing their points of view, evaluating alternative proposals, making hypotheses and responding to them

- With some effort, pick up much of what is said in discussions going on around them, but may find it difficult to participate effectively in discussions with several native speakers if they do not modify their speech in some way

- Express and uphold their opinions in discussions by providing appropriate explanations, arguments, and comments

- Keep up with heated discussions and accurately identify the arguments of different points of view. Express ideas and opinions with precision, present complex lines and respond to them with conviction

- Understand, with complete certainty, detailed instructions. Contribute to the progress of the work by inviting others to participate, speak up, etc.

- Outline an issue or problem clearly, speculating on the causes or consequences and comparing the advantages and disadvantages of different approaches

- Negotiate the resolution of conflicts, such as claiming an unfair traffic fine, claiming financial responsibility for damages caused in an apartment or for culpability in an accident

- Express their opinions in the event of damages, using persuasive language to claim compensation and clearly establish the limits of any concession they are willing to make

- Explain a problem that has arisen and make it clear that the service provider or customer must make concessions

- Understand and exchange complex information and advice on all matters related to their profession. Communicates detailed information with complete certainty

- Make clear and detailed descriptions of how to carry out a procedure. Summarizes and communicates information and arguments from a variety of sources

- Conduct effective and fluent interviews, even spontaneously departing from prepared questions, following the thread and giving interesting answers

- Take the initiative in an interview. Expand and develop ideas, either with little help or getting help if needed from the interviewer

Sociocultural and Sociolinguistic Competence

• Broaden and diversify your knowledge of sociocultural aspects of communities where they speak the language, acquiring a natural and confident manner of speaking, which doesn't attract attention nor leads to special treatment, different to that given to native speakers. Furthermore, gain knowledge of how to adjust your behavior, reactions, attitude, message and wording to any changes in situation, style and emphasis

• Identify the most important aspects of a variety of common formal and informal oral and written registers, and appropriately use the expressions, pronunciation and intonation of the most common registers that you are most in contact with

• Perceive the differentiating characteristics of the Italian language pattern in relation to other widespread or nearby patterns

Linguistic Competence

• Manage a wide and varied repertoire of linguistic resources, including complex syntax and textual grammar, to naturally approach with precision and clarity texts on a vast range of situations and topics, almost without showing you have limited knowledge of what you want to say

• Flexibly adapt to changes in direction, register and emphasis, although hesitations and circumlocutions can still occur

• Efficiently use a variety of connectors and discourse markers to clearly show the link between different ideas and successfully make the speech cohesive in a flexible and efficient way

• Possess good command of linguistic resources with very few mistakes. When using complex structures, especially in discourse development, and even more so in oral communication or in less common situations, there are sometimes cohesion or inappropriate register mistakes, as well as sporadic slips or some "resistant" errors in less commonly controlled situations. In these cases the student will be capable of self-correcting

" This program will give you access to numerous activities to reinforce your newly acquired German language"

Did you know?

Communicative competence is not merely limited to the knowledge and ability to use the linguistic code, but has other broader dimensions, which place it in direct relation with other competences such as information processing and digital competence, learning to learn, social and civic competence, or cultural and artistic competence.

This implies a cultural immersion that is only possible to recreate in the online format through simulated scenarios, storytelling, videos and real situations.

You will learn in depth the language of Goethe, E. T. A. Hoffmann and Thomas Mann.

Course Structure and Content

Practicing a language in a group is extremely enriching as it not only contributes to personal oral expression, but also listening comprehension and fluency in all kinds of contexts. That is why this program has been designed from a unique perspective, where a team of native teachers will prepare group sessions based on the group's own requirements and needs. The most advanced conversational topics on nutrition, sports and education will be covered, among other issues required to pass the oral part of the B2 Level.

Where, When and How is it Taught?

This course takes place over 4 months and consists of 40 60-minute live sessions taught by native-speaking teachers.

Each session is structured as follows:

- Practice of oral interaction skills
- Practice of oral expression skills
- Simulation of real situations
- Tips and tricks to prepare for the test
- Summary and closing
- Download printable sheets

You will be able to enjoy very valuable group dynamics to develop your oral skills, improving both comprehension and expression"

B2 Level Learning Objectives

In each program, native teachers prepare a series of items that students must overcome in order to satisfactorily reach the course goals. Thanks to personalized tutoring, all the proposed objectives can be achieved in the shortest time possible, thanks to effective and efficient teaching.

- Build more advanced conversations and discussions, enhancing grammar and listening skills
- Address issues on how to learn to deal with stress and fatigue, balancing work and leisure
- Express your thoughts, by understanding deeper topics of conversation
- Learn common vocabulary and expressions on nutrition, sport and education, with emphasis on bad habits and modern environmental problems

The teaching staff will adapt to the needs and requirements of the group, always maintaining a reduced group size to encourage maximum participation"

I wanted to get a position in an exchange program and they asked for at least a B2 in German. I didn't have much time to prepare and certify it, but with TECH it was very easy, very fluent. In a few weeks I had already improved a lot and I was able to certify my level. And yes, I got the exchange position and right now I am studying in Germany.

Paulo Cassetti

Student from Italy

I received the offer from an athletics club in Hamburg. It was a great opportunity. But the adaptation process could be complicated because I spoke very little German. A friend recommended TECH because they are able to make you improve very fast and my friend was right, in a very short time I was able to communicate with my teammates and with my coaches. I am very happy.

The Professional Benefits of German

German is the ninth most spoken language in the world. It is spoken in countries such as: Switzerland, Austria, Luxembourg and Belgium. And also in other parts of the world in small communities.

There is no doubt that the main reason to learn German is for work. Austria has the lowest unemployment rate of the Eurozone countries; Switzerland is one of the most affluent countries and offers excellent working conditions; the engine of Europe, Germany, offers great employment opportunities to anyone who is willing to work. However, a good level of German is a prerequisite for working in these countries. Many have tried their luck and emigrated from their home countries in search of work, but doing it without knowing German is not particularly easy.

Learning German may be just what you need to develop your career. Knowing German will also make it easier to create or maintain working relationships with German-speaking associates in your country. It will undoubtedly help to strengthen relationships and close business deals. It is also worth bearing in mind that German is the native language of one of the world's major exporting countries, and having a good command of this language allows you to perform better in business and instill greater confidence in working relationships.

Additionally, German is the second most important language for the sciences and Germany is the third most important country for its contribution to research and development. Germany awards a large number of research grants to foreign scientists and almost 20% of the world's books are written in German.

German is the native language of one of the world's major exporting countries, and having a good command of this language allows you to perform better in business"

Assessment and Certification

The main evaluation objective in TECH is that the student consolidates what they have learned and is aware of their progress. For this reason, after completing each block, the student is shown a report of the results, which visually indicates the skills that they should strengthen.

"TECH's B2 level oral communication skills preparation program is the only one that also awards you with a university certificate"

Certification

At the end of the course the student will receive a certificate of recognition that confirms that they are prepared to obtain official certification for this level.
