Is it Important to Obtain a Language Certificate?

Language certification is essential in today's world. It is not enough to be proficient in a second language, but it is also necessary to accredit that proficiency so that institutions and companies of all kinds can know the candidate's real level of command of a language. Consequently, this program is essential for all students who wish to be able to accredit their oral performance in Italian according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

What Is Level B2?

Level B1 is part of the Independent User Level, which is divided into two sub-levels: First and Second Independent User Level (B1 and B2).

The B2 Level has two main features: the first is the ability to maintain interaction and make oneself understood in a variety of situations, for example: Learners generally understand the main ideas of extended discussions around them provided the speech is clearly articulated at a standard language level; they can offer and ask for personal opinions in an informal discussion with friends; clearly express the main idea they want to get across; flexibly use broad, simple language to express much of what they want; they are able to carry on a conversation or discussion, but can sometimes be difficult to understand when trying to say exactly what they mean; express themselves understandably, although pauses for some grammatical and lexical planning and mistake-correcting is evident, especially in long periods language flow.

Our Methodology

The B2 Italian Online Conversation Classes program is an intensive preparation course based 100% on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). For this purpose, we TECH use a method of oral proficiency practice in which the student works intensively and repeatedly on all the contents required by the Framework, providing them with extensive preparation to pass the test.

You will not find a program like this one, which allows you to work at your own pace, with native teachers, in small groups and based on specific practice for the CEFR skills in each session”

Conventional methods of teaching a second language, such as demonstrative classes or mechanical exercises, slow down learning and seriously affect student motivation, as confirmed by statistical data reflecting the failure of the traditional system and methodology.

TECH's B2 Italian Online Conversation Classes offers a method based on interaction and synchronous and direct communication between teacher and student to thoroughly prepare for the oral level certification test. TECH's objective is to strengthen student skills in a changing, real and multicultural context, and to guarantee their success in passing the level exam.

The student will learn through activities, stories and real contexts, the resolution of everyday and basic communication situations in simulated learning environments and will face real mock exams to prepare intensively for the level certification test.

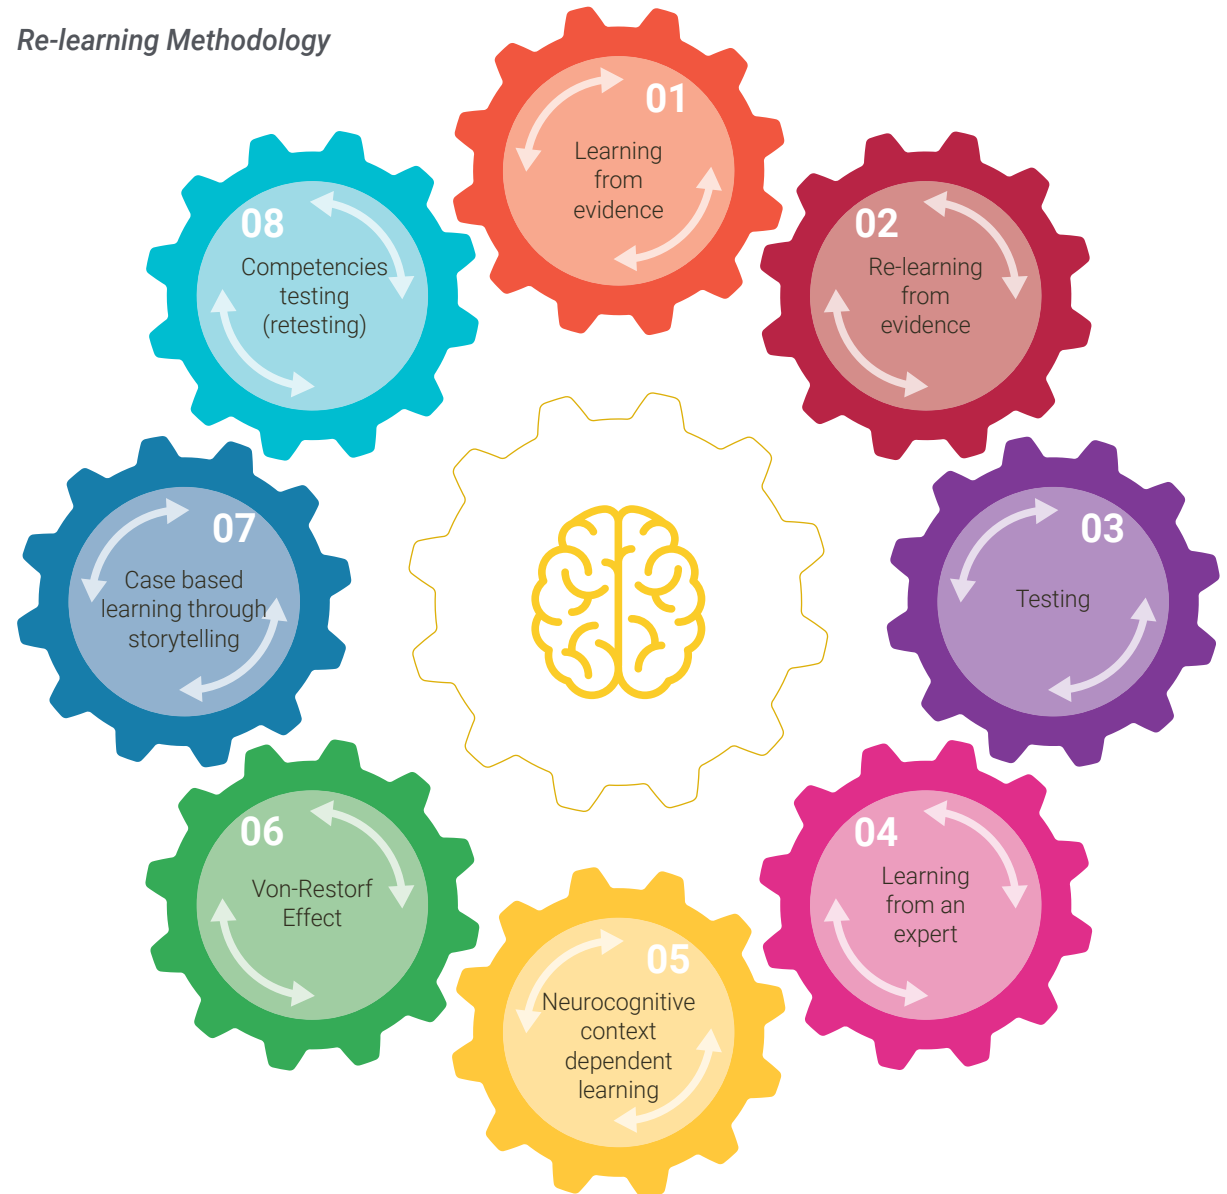

...All of this is enhanced with the best 100% online teaching methodology: Re-learning...

Our school is the first in the world to combine storytelling with a 100% online learning system based on repetition, which combines different elements that represent an evolution with respect to the simple study and performance of exercises.

TECH offers you the highest quality and quantity in the academic landscape, with hundreds of exercises and resources for you to keep improving your level step by step.

This methodology, at the forefront of world teaching, is called Re-learning. Our language school is the first licensed to employ this successful method, having managed in 2015 to improve the overall satisfaction levels (teaching quality, quality of materials, course structure, etc.) of students who complete the courses with respect to the indicators of the best language courses on the market.

Re-learning Methodology

The overall score obtained by our learning system is 8.01, according to the highest international standards.

We prevent your motivation from waning and offer you the best learning environment.

TECH's intensive oral proficiency preparation program is based on synchronous communication, in real time, as this type of interaction has been proven to reinforce personal participation, strengthen work interaction, socio-emotional relationships and personal interactions, all of which helps to increase motivation. (Hrastinski, 2008).

...with a personalized and expert-led training itinerary...

In order to promote maximum contact with the Language School, we provide you with a tutor so that you can write essays, receive answers to your questions or get advice on how to study.

Our system enables students to organize their time and learning pace, adapting it to their schedule, and to access the contents from any device with an Internet connection (computer, tablet, smartphone or the like)”

According to the latest scientific evidence in the field of neuroscience, not only do we know how to organize information, ideas, images, memories, but we know that the place and context where we have learned something is fundamental for us to be able to remember it and store it in the hippocampus and retain it in our long-term memory. In this way, and in what is called “Neurocognitive context-dependent learning”, the different elements of our intensive Italian B2 Level preparation course are connected to the context in which the participant will take their certification exam in order to guarantee success on the day of the test.

Course Objectives

The main objective of this language program is to enable students to develop their oral expression and comprehension skills in Italian up to a B2 level. Not only will they be able to be fluent in the language, they will also be able to certify it through the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, a reference system of international prestige. Thus, these online conversation classes fulfill a double function: while students improve, they are also preparing to pass the CEFR oral test.

Practice the speaking skills and abilities required by the CEFR B2 Level: more than 100 different practice exercises”

General Objectives

01

Understand, interact and express yourself in an extensive range of situations, both orally and written, with good control of linguistic resources and with a degree of precision and ease that allows for natural communication with native speakers.

02

Acquire deeper knowledge of sociocultural aspects related to these situations and alter your register, attitudes and gestures appropriately in each situation.

03

Internalize new linguistic resources through functional and formal practice and to reinforce the use of those already known; to reflect on mistakes in order to be able to correct yourself.

04

Become aware of the communication and learning strategies that help you the most, so that you can use them intentionally.

05

Develop autonomy in the planning, carrying out, evaluation and improvement of your own learning.

Specific ObjectivesOral Comprehension

- ♦ Understand the main ideas of a linguistically complex speech, dealing with both concrete and abstract topics delivered at a standard language level, including technical discussions within their field of expertise
- ♦ Understand long speeches and complex lines of reasoning as long as the subject matter is reasonably familiar and the development of the speech is facilitated by explicit markers
- ♦ Understand any type of speech, both face-to-face conversations and broadcast speeches, on topics, usual or not, of personal, social, academic or professional life. Only excessive background noise, inadequate structuring of speech or idiomatic use of language affect their ability to understand
- ♦ Pick up with some effort much of what is being said around them, but may find it difficult to participate effectively in a discussion with several native speakers if they do not modify their speech in some way
- ♦ Follow lively conversations between native speakers
- ♦ Understand the main ideas of linguistically complex lectures, talks and reports, and other forms of academic and professional presentation
- ♦ Understand statements and messages on concrete and abstract topics, in standard language and at a normal pace
- ♦ Understand most radio documentaries and other recorded or rebroadcast material spoken in standard language, and identify the speaker's mood and tone

- ♦ Understand recordings in standard language that may be encountered in social, professional or academic life, and identify the speaker's points of view and attitudes, as well as the content of the information

Oral Expression

- ♦ Participate in conversations with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that enables regular interaction with native speakers without strain for either party. Emphasize the personal importance of certain facts and experiences, express and defend points of view with clarity, providing adequate explanations and arguments
- ♦ Speak fluently, accurately and effectively on a wide range of general, academic, professional or leisure topics, clearly marking the relationship between ideas. Communicate spontaneously and has good grammatical control without showing many signs of having to restrict what they say and adopting a level of formality appropriate to the circumstances

- ♦ Understand in detail what is said in standard language, even in an environment with background noise
- ♦ Approach extensive conversations on most general topics, even in a noisy environment, in a clearly participatory manner
- ♦ Have conversations with native speakers without unintentionally amusing or annoying them, and without demanding different behavior from them than they would have with a native speaker
- ♦ Convey a certain emotion and highlight the personal importance of facts and experiences
- ♦ Follow the rhythm of lively discussions between native speakers. Express ideas and opinions with precision, present complex lines of argument convincingly and respond to them
- ♦ Take an active part in informal discussions that occur in everyday situations by making comments, clearly expressing their points of view, evaluating alternative proposals, making hypotheses and responding to them
- ♦ With some effort, pick up much of what is said in discussions going on around them, but may find it difficult to participate effectively in discussions with several native speakers if they do not modify their speech in some way
- ♦ Express and uphold their opinions in discussions by providing appropriate explanations, arguments, and comments
- ♦ Keep up with heated discussions and accurately identify the arguments of different points of view. Express ideas and opinions with precision, present complex lines and respond to them with conviction
- ♦ Understand, with complete certainty, detailed instructions. Contribute to the progress of the work by inviting others to participate, speak up, etc.

- ♦ Outline an issue or problem clearly, speculating on the causes or consequences and comparing the advantages and disadvantages of different approaches
- ♦ Negotiate the resolution of conflicts, such as claiming an unfair traffic fine, claiming financial responsibility for damages caused in an apartment or for culpability in an accident
- ♦ Express their opinions in the event of damages, using persuasive language to claim compensation, and clearly establish the limits of any concession they are willing to make
- ♦ Explain a problem that has arisen and make it clear that the service provider or customer must make concessions
- ♦ Understand and exchange complex information and advice on all matters related to their profession. Convey detailed information with complete certainty
- ♦ Make clear and detailed descriptions of how to carry out a procedure. Synthesize and communicate information and arguments from a variety of sources
- ♦ Conduct effective and fluent interviews, even spontaneously departing from prepared questions, following the thread and giving interesting answers
- ♦ Take the initiative in an interview, and expand and develop their ideas, either with little help or getting it if needed from the interviewer

Specific Objectives

Sociocultural and Sociolinguistic Competence

- Broaden and diversify your knowledge of the sociocultural aspects of communities where the language is spoken, acquiring a natural and confident manner of speaking that doesn't draw attention to you or lead to you being treated differently to native speakers. Also learn how to adapt your behavior, reactions, attitude, the messages you convey and your wording to any changes in situation, style and emphasis
- Identify the most important aspects of a variety of common formal and informal oral and written registers, and appropriately use the expressions, pronunciation and intonation of the most common registers with which you are in contact more frequently
- Perceive the differentiating characteristics of the Italian language pattern in relation to other widespread or nearby patterns.

Linguistic Competence

- Manage a wide and varied repertoire of linguistic resources, including complex syntax and textual grammar, to naturally approach with precision and clarity texts on a vast range of situations and topics, almost without showing you have limited knowledge of what you want to say.
- Flexibly adapt to changes in direction, register and emphasis, although hesitations and circumlocutions can still occur.
- Efficiently use a variety of connectors and discourse markers to clearly show the link between different ideas and successfully make the speech cohesive in a flexible and efficient way.
- Possess good command of linguistic resources with very few mistakes. When using complex structures, especially in discourse development, and even more so in oral communication or in less common situations, there are sometimes cohesion or inappropriate register mistakes, as well as sporadic slips or some "resistant" errors in less commonly controlled situations. In these cases the student will be capable of self-correcting.

This program will give you access to numerous activities to reinforce your newly acquired Italian language skills.

Did you know?

Communicative competence is not merely limited to the knowledge and ability to use the linguistic code, but has other broader dimensions, which place it in direct relation with other competences such as information processing and digital competence, learning to learn, social and civic competence, or cultural and artistic competence. This implies a cultural immersion that is only possible to recreate in the online format through simulated scenarios, storytelling, videos and real situations.

Europe's most exciting language awaits you.

"I recently achieved my dream of studying in Italy. I needed to certify my level of Italian. They were asking for a B2. And these conversation classes helped me reach that level. Everything was very comfortable and the teachers adapted to my needs at all times. I'm already looking forward to going for the C2 Level."

Teresa Echenique

A Uruguayan Student

"I love to travel. And although I've been to many places, Italy is special to me. I go there whenever I can. My favorite cities? Naples and Florence. But any town in the country is worth it. I was embarrassed to visit Italy so often without being able to speak the language fluently. A friend recommended these TECH conversation classes and I don't regret it: since I travel a lot, I sign up to classes from anywhere, and their practical methodology is ideal for me."

The Professional Benefits of Italian

Italian is a beautiful and romantic language, the language of ancient medieval thinkers, historical writers, and possesses a unique musicality and conceptual richness in a wide variety of fields. It is the language of Dante, Petrarch and Boccaccio, three great Italian writers, but it is also the language of art, history, science, gastronomy and fashion.

As the birthplace of Latinity, Italy played a decisive role in the diffusion of Latin and the culture of the Roman Empire in the rest of Europe, both in Ancient times and in the ages that followed. Similarly, after the affirmation of the Neo-Latin languages and the constitution of modern linguistic Europe, Italian has had, at times, moments of great importance in the international linguistic context.

Approximately 70 million people worldwide speak Italian (60 million in Italy and around 10 million in the rest of the world). It is the official language in Italy, Switzerland, San Marino and Vatican City. It is spoken, at least in part, in eleven countries, to which must be added some twenty countries with a large Italian community, such as Argentina, Germany, Australia and the USA.

Italian is one of the official languages of the European Union, therefore speaking Italian will open the doors to many international organizations and also the possibility of working in many of the large Italian companies with international presence. The Italian economy is principally based in three sectors, tourism, the automotive industry and fashion.

For all these reasons, Italian is found amongst the ten most useful languages in the world and its considered necessary to succeed in the 21st Century.”
